Police warn about LRT robberies

Be aware of surroundings.
Const. Dana Gehring says students should be careful not to tune out while displaying expensive electronics

RYAN TUMILTY
ryan.tumilty@metronews.ca

Even with trends showing a decline in personal robberies on the LRT system, the Edmonton Police are asking riders to stay vigilant so those numbers stay moving in the right direction.

Edmonton police are particularly concerned about people travelling near the Clareview LRT station, where 14 personal robberies have occurred with similar suspects since January 2011.

At a news conference yesterday, Const. Dana Gehring said those robberies appeared to stop in April, but then another one occurred in August.

"We wanted to take a proactive approach to make sure that parents and student are aware of some of the things they can do."

He said students travelling often display expensive items very openly and also pay attention to the gadgets at the expense of the world around them.

"They seem to tune out when they are playing with these items and they are not aware of their surroundings."

The suspect in the robberies have been described as black males between the ages of 14 and 25.

There have been between two and five of them and in two instances the victims were assaulted, while in others they were threatened.

City officials stressed the system sees 400,000 rides a day almost all without incident.

Security-guard shooting

Crown wants Baumgartner sent directly to trial

The Alberta Crown wants the case of a man accused of fatally shooting three security guards to go directly to trial without a preliminary hearing.

Travis Baumgartner was charged with three counts of first-degree murder and one of attempted murder following a June 15 armed robbery on the University of Alberta campus. The Crown says there is enough evidence to go to trial without spending months in a preliminary hearing.

Baumgartner, 21, is to be back in court Sept. 7. He was arrested a day after the robbery at the Canada-U.S. border with $334,000 in a backpack.

The guards who died included Michelle Shegelski, 26, Eddie Rejano, 39, and Brian Ilesic, 35.

RCMP shooting case delayed

There is a delay in setting a preliminary hearing date for a man charged with attempted murder in the shooting of two Alberta RCMP. Sawyer Robison appeared in Camrose court Wednesday but had his case put over to Sept. 13. His preliminary hearing was set for October, but due to a conflict in his lawyer's schedule, that date will now be moved.

Constables Sheldon Shah and Sid Gaudette were shot and wounded on Feb. 7 near Killam, Alta., when they went to execute a search warrant at Robison's family farm. Police said Robison was inside the house during the shooting, then drove off. His uncle, Brad Clarke, was found dead inside following a lengthy standoff. THE CANADIAN PRESS

City hopes construction delays can be offset in fall

Soggy start. Drier weather would speed up major projects, but Diotte thinks better planning is also needed

ryan.tumilty@metronews.ca

Major construction projects in Edmonton are being slowed down by the wet summer weather, but city officials are still hopeful they will make significant progress this year.

The major projects in the downtown core, including Jasper Avenue and 108th Street will both be reopened to traffic, but will then return to construction next year.

"They are going to get as much done as they possibly can this year and they will have two lanes over the wintertime," said the city's director of special projects Byron Nicholson.

Other projects in the city, where new roads are being built or widened, will be much more weather dependent, Nicholson said.

"We are really hoping for a good fall."

The construction on Jasper, as well as the work on 108th Street will continue until winter stops the work.

"We go until freeze up, winter could be the middle of October or it could be late November."

Coun. Kerry Diotte raised concerns over construction at Wednesday's city council meeting. He said many residents are concerned about areas where there are lane closures, but no signs of work.

"People seem to have the feeling that it takes too long to get construction completed."

Diotte asked for a report on how projects are monitored and how they are planned, because residents have raised concerns that all their regular routes become blocked in a single season.

The report will come back to council in several

Construction projects

- 108th Street construction designed to create a Capital Boulevard providing a grand view from MacEwan University to Alberta Legislature.

months, which Diotte said will be good for the future.

"Perhaps they will find ways to alleviate some of these problems next year."

Demand for outreach at downtown library prompts program expansion

Growth. More clients means more social work staff for main EPL branch

heather.mcintyre@metronews.ca

The Stanley A. Milner Library is learning that if you build it, they will come.

Often, the downtown Edmonton Public Library branch is frequented by homeless or marginalized members of society, which is why provincial funding allocated in May 2011 was used to hire social workers to perform outreach work.

The program has become extremely popular, meaning a growth in staff.

"We added another position and we provided a few more hours ... and that was really in response to the volume of work and the need that was showing up in our library," said manager Virginia Clevette.

David MacMain was hired this past spring, and joins Jared Tkachuk and part-timer

Lucinda Johnston Lawrence. Prior to MacMain being hired, Tkachuk said he met with an average of 20 clients per day.

That number is now closer to 30.

News has spread mostly through word of mouth, and not only about housing, employment and medical services, but relationships of trust and support, as well.

"There is no stigma attached to the library, so people don't feel ashamed of coming here," said MacMain. "And because of that, people are coming here a lot."

And not only are more people seeking help during visits, there has been a decrease in trouble at the library.

There was a 36 per cent decrease from 2010 to 2011 for incidents in which police had to be called, and Clevette said for the first part of 2012, there has been about a 50 per cent drop from the same period last year.

The beginning

- A total of $3 million in funding was announced by former Alberta premier Ed Stelmach in May 2011 for crime prevention to the EPL, along with four other local organizations and societies.
- The EPL received $600,000 over three years, and the new hire is within that funding.

- The program was inspired by similar ones at both Halifax and San Francisco area libraries.
- The EPL works closely with Boyle Street Community Services, who run a street outreach program.

Bail denied. Woman accused of ordering dogs to attack another woman

A Calgary judge has denied bail to a central Alberta woman charged in a vicious dog attack earlier this month.

Rita Phillip, 57, wasn't able to attend her first scheduled court appearance Monday because she was taken to hospital from the Calgary Remand Centre. She was in visible pain and grimaced as she sat down in the prisoner's docket Wednesday before asking the court bailiff for a glass of water.

Phillip is charged with aggravated assault relating to the attack at a trailer park in Sundre earlier this month. She is accused of ordering her two pit-bull type dogs to attack a 26-year-old Calgary woman who was visiting her.

A publication ban was placed on all evidence heard during the Wednesday's bail hearing.

Provincial court Judge Cheryl Daniel ordered Phillip to remain in custody until her next court appearance in Didsbury on Sept. 10.

Phillip sat hunched over in the prisoner's box looking at the floor throughout the bail hearing.

RCMP responded to an early morning 911 call from a home at the Sundre Mobile Estates Park on Aug. 18.

The young woman who was victim of the attack was found lying unconscious behind a closed bedroom door in a pool of blood. THE CANADIAN PRESS

Freak accident

University remembers cyclist

Tributes continued to pour in for the 21-year old University of Alberta student and track athlete who was killed in a freak accident on Monday.

Issak Kornelsen was travelling along Whyte Avenue when he fell in front of a cement truck, after trying to dodge a pick-up truck's side mirror.

Nathan Kowalsky, an assistant professor of philosophy, taught Kornelsen and said he had a unique mind.

"It is a breadth of intellect, he seemed to want to know as much about everything as he possibly could," he said.

University officials said they were still talking with Kornelsen's family about how the school might honour his memory.

Kowalsky said even if tragedy hadn't happened he would have remembered Kornelsen.

"He was one of those few students that matter what happens. I will probably never forget his name."

Bachelorette. Travel Alberta defends $20,000 spent on trip by TV stars

Officials with Travel Alberta say the economic benefit will outweigh the cost of bringing reality TV stars to Edmonton last weekend.

The province and the Edmonton Economic Development Corporation dished out about $20,000 to bring in Bachelorette stars Ashley Hebert and J.P. Rosenbaum.

Richard Wong with Travel Alberta says it's an investment that should pay off in the long run.

Wong admits it's hard to measure the amount of economic return from such a visit.

HEATHER MCINTYRE

The high school teacher who was suspended back in the spring for handing out zero grades to students believes his job with the Edmonton Public School Board has come to an end.

Lynden Dorval, a physics teacher for the past 15 years at Ross Sheppard High School, was suspended for insubordination for going against the school's "no zero" policy, and handing out the grade for students who didn't complete or hand in assignments.

Dorval said he is still currently suspended, but will meet with EPSB superintendent of schools Edgar Schmidt on Sept. 10 for a hearing.

"I got a letter and a pack-

Overall, Dorval thinks it's "more than likely" he will lose his job.

"I knew from the beginning," he added. "I was sort of hoping that things would turn out differently."

"But I have no regrets."

In June, EPSB trustees voted to launch a full review of the board's student evaluation process, which allows each principal to implement policies such as "no zeros."

Fort Macleod. Province cancels police college

Just weeks after the Alberta government awarded the construction contract to build a long-awaited police training college in Fort Macleod, Solicitor General Jonathan Denis cancelled the project Wednesday, saying it was not viable.

"This was a very difficult decision for me and the rest of the department, but it's one I believe is in the best interests of the taxpayers as well as law enforcement," Denis told reporters.

Opposition politicians immediately denounced it as political payback. Fort Macleod, near Lethbridge, is in the riding of Livingstone-Macleod. It had been a longtime stronghold of the governing Progressive Conservatives, but residents voted in a member of the opposition Wildrose Party in the spring election.

Denis said politics had no part in the decision. He said recent discussions with the Alberta Association of Chiefs of Police over recruiting and training was the tipping point for the proposed Alberta Public Security and Law Enforcement Training Centre.

"The communication that I received and some discussions that we've had raise some serious concerns about whether this college is required," he said.

His office confirmed $1.9 million has been spent developing the site and designing the $122-million college.

Fort Macleod Mayor Shawn Patience was furious about the decision. "I'm more than distraught at this moment," he said.

"The effort that this community has put in it, to see this evolve after the contract was awarded — absolutely not only unbelievable, but I'm at a bit of a loss for words."

Despite more than a 20 per cent increase in requests for dry or quiet dorms at the University of Alberta's Lister Centre, the same amount of space is available this year.

Three quiet and two alcohol-free floors, with room for about 40 students on each, were introduced in September 2011.

There were 220 requests

Here and there

- Other changes planned for Lister include primarily first-year or transfer students admitted, replacing student-elected residence positions with university hires, and prohibiting alcohol outside private dorm rooms.

- Grant MacEwan also prohibits booze in public places, while Augustana has a dry residence, and King's and Concordia prohibit alcohol on campus.

for alcohol-free floors last year, which grew about 28 per cent to 292 this year. For quiet floors, 424 requests last year grew 25 per cent to 530 this year.

Residence services director Dima Utgoff said the primary reason for maintaining the status quo is "we have so many other things going on at this point."

"But we will be evaluating this very carefully for next year because, although we wanted to hold it for a year, we likely will not next year if this kind of demand continues to show itself," said Utgoff. "We'll certainly want to re-evaluate the number of floors that we're using."

'Nifty hunters.' Alberta researchers investigate predator dinos found in China

It's all in the belly of a beast.

Research suggests the Sinocalliopteryx gigas, a small carnivorous dinosaur found in northeastern China, was likely a ruthless and efficient hunter with a voracious appetite.

The theory is contained in a report published Wednesday in the journal PLOS ONE. The authors, led by Phil Bell of the Alberta-based Pipestone Creek Dinosaur Initiative, investigated the abdominal contents of two specimens of Sinocalliopteryx gigas.

The creature was about two metres long and weighed about 20 kilograms. It ran on its hind legs and had long fore-

Paul Ryan wowed the Republican National Convention on Wednesday with a passionate, occasionally snide and often funny speech to delegates after accepting the party's nomination as Mitt Romney's running mate.

"The president has declared that the debate over government-controlled health care is over.

"That will come as news to the millions of Americans who will elect Mitt Romney so we can repeal Obamacare," Ryan said.

His speech was rife with Obama ridicule.

"Ladies and gentlemen, these past four years we have suffered no shortage of words in the White House. What's missing is leadership in the White House."

Ooops!

Open mike shuts down Yahoo chief

Yahoo News has fired its Washington bureau chief after he was caught on a microphone saying Mitt Romney and his wife were "happy to have a party with black people drowning."

It was an apparent reference to the Republican convention happening as Tropical Storm Isaac hit the Louisiana coast.

Company spokesperson Anne Espiritu said David Chalian's remark was inappropriate and does not represent Yahoo's views.

She said Yahoo is apologizing to Romney and his supporters.

Chalian spoke out just before Yahoo began its live coverage of the Republican convention on Tuesday evening.

Haircut attack shamed cleric: Son

A hair-cutting attack on an Amish bishop left him so ashamed that he stopped preaching and refused to attend a family wedding, his son testified Wednesday.

The 77-year-old father didn't want anyone to see him without his beard, the son told a court.

Andy Hershberger was testifying at the Cleveland trial of 16 Amish men and women accused of carrying out a series of hate crimes on church leaders.

In the minutes after the surprise encounter last fall, Hershberger said he looked toward his father, Raymond Hershberger. Grey clumps of hair from the beard his father had grown since marriage covered the floor.

"He was shaking all over," Hershberger said.

"He was crying and crying."

Those accused of planning and taking part in the attacks targeted the hair and beards of Amish bishops because of the spiritual significance of them in the faith, prosecutors said.

Most Amish men do not shave their beards after marriage, believing it signifies their devotion to God.

Thousands told to leave low-lying areas

Tens of thousands of people had been told ahead of Isaac to leave low-lying areas of Mississippi and Louisiana, including 700 patients of Louisiana nursing homes. Mississippi shut down the state's 12 shorefront casinos. THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Political implications

Storm creates opportunities for both parties

Isaac posed political challenges with echoes of those that followed Katrina.

U.S. President Barack Obama sought to demonstrate his ability to guide the nation through a natural disaster, and Republicans tried to reassure residents as they formally nominated former Massachusetts Gov. Mitt Romney as their presidential candidate.

Louisiana's Republican Gov. Bobby Jindal said the Obama administration's disaster declaration fell short.

Exactly 7 years after Katrina, Louisiana lashed again by Isaac

Floodwaters. Rescue workers flock to New Orleans and rural communities to help stranded residents

Tropical storm Isaac continued to lash New Orleans with heavy rains Wednesday even as it was downgraded to a tropical storm, as a newly-fortified levee system appeared to be holding exactly seven years after Hurricane Katrina devastated the city. In a drenched part of rural Louisiana, rescuers on boats snatched dozens of people stranded by floodwaters.

In New Orleans, power lines were downed and debris littered the streets, prompting officials to impose a dusk-to-dawn curfew. Louisiana officials said they may have to intentionally breach a levee in a flooded area as Isaac made a slow, drenching slog inland from the Gulf of Mexico.

In a hard-hit rural area southeast of New Orleans, officials rescued dozens of people by boat, while authorities feared more in Plaquemines Parish could need help after a night of slashing rain and fierce winds that knocked out power to more than 700,000 households.

Isaac has top sustained winds of 112 km/h, just below the hurricane threshold of 119 km/h.

The hurricane also cancelled commemoration ceremonies Wednesday for Katrina's 1,800 dead in Louisiana and Mississippi. Isaac was testing a New Orleans levee system bolstered by $14 billion in federal repairs and improvements after the catastrophic failures during Katrina.

Army Corps spokeswoman Rachel Rodi said the city's bigger, stronger levees were withstanding the assault.

"The system is performing as intended, as we expected," she said. "We don't see any issues with the hurricane system at this point."

Rescuers in boats and trucks plucked a handful of people who became stranded by floodwaters in thinly populated areas of southeast Louisiana.

Although Isaac was much weaker than Katrina, the threat of dangerous storm surges and flooding from heavy rain was expected to last all day and into the night as the immense comma-shaped storm crawled across Louisiana.

Water driven by the large and powerful storm flooded over a 30-kilometre stretch of one levee in Plaquemines Parish. The levee, one of many across the low-lying coastal zone, is not part of the new defences constructed in New Orleans after Katrina.

The storm not only coincided with the Katrina anniversary, but also the first major speeches of the Republican National Convention in Tampa, Florida. THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Aggravated assault. Quebecer, aged 29, had corrosive material splashed on her face by her boyfriend

A Quebec woman is in an induced coma and has her face covered in bandages after having corrosive acid thrown in her face.

More than 4,000 messages of support on Facebook have rolled in for Tanya St-Arnauld.

The 29-year-old St-Arnauld will stay in hospital having also sustained burns to her body. Police in Longueuil, south of Montreal, arrested Nikolas Stefanatos shortly after the Sunday morning attack. Police say Stefanatos is St-Arnauld's boyfriend.

He appeared in court Monday and was charged with aggravated assault.

A police spokesman says in-investigators have not yet been able to question St-Arnauld because of her condition.

Stefanatos is to appear in court for a bail hearing on Friday. THE CANADIAN PRESS

Nabbed monkey returned

Sounding more Hollywood caper than Animal Planet, the saga of Hercules the kidnapped squirrel monkey included a risky heist, an anonymous phone call and a secret exchange on a New Brunswick country road on Wednesday. The pint-sized primate was nabbed from his cage sometime after the Magnetic Hill Zoo in Moncton closed Tuesday. Hours after staff discovered Hercules was missing, zoo manager Bruce Dougan met with a man on a rural road to reclaim the monkey. Hercules was returned in a cardboard box.

Trash the dress. Death has some questioning photo-shoot bridal fad

A photo shoot in a Quebec river that went horribly wrong when a bride was dragged into the water and drowned is shining a light on the growing "trash-the-dress" phenomenon.

Maria Pantazopoulos, a 30-year-old real-estate agent, was posing in her wedding dress Friday for a photo shoot along the Ouareau River in Rawdon, Que., about 60 kilometres north of Montreal, when her gown became waterlogged and dragged her into the water. Her body was found by a scuba diver two hours later.

Photographer Louis Pagakis said he did everything he could to save Pantazopoulos when she went under.

"She had her wedding dress on and she said, 'Take some pictures of me while I swim a little bit in the lake.' She went in and her dress got heavy, I tried everything I could to save her," Pagakis told CTV Montreal. "I jumped in, I was screaming and yelling. We tried our best."

The tragedy has highlighted some of the more unorthodox — and even unsafe — situations in which brides and

Not really trash

According to Matt Boyce, owner of Xero Digital Photography in Toronto, the term "trash the dress" is a bit of a misnomer. While gowns do get wet and dirty during shoots, most of the brides he has photographed intend to keep their dresses — but not before having a bit of fun.

grooms will put themselves as part of this increasingly popular form of photography. The trash-the-dress meme aims to capture images of brides and grooms, dressed in their wedding attire, in fantastical situations or exotic locales.

A ritual begun several years ago as novelty photography akin to that found only in the pages of fashion magazines, "trash the dress" has grown in popularity thanks in part to the unconventional wedding work of Las Vegas photographer John Michael Cooper, whose famous image of a bride nearly enveloped in her burning gown pushed expectations.

Indian court convicts 32 Hindus over deadly riots

2002 Gujarat killings. More verdicts to be issued this year for anti-Muslim clash that left 1,100 dead

An Indian court convicted a former state government minister and 31 other people Wednesday in connection with deadly anti-Muslim riots that shook the western state of Gujarat in 2002.

The violence, which killed more than 1,100 people, almost all Muslims, began after a train fire on Feb. 27, 2002, that killed 60 Hindu pilgrims. Hindu mobs, convinced Muslims set the fire, rampaged through towns and villages burning Muslim homes and businesses.

Rights groups and survivors have accused the state government, controlled by the Hindu right-wing Bharatiya Janata Party, of not doing enough to stop the violence, and even stoking it.

The convictions Wednesday stemmed from an attack outside Gujarat's capital that killed 95 people. THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Previous convictions

Wednesday's convictions were not the first linked to the rioting.

- In July, a special court found 21 people guilty in the murders of 11 members of a Muslim family.
- Last November, 31 Hindus were sentenced to life imprisonment for killing dozens of Muslims by setting a building on fire.

Brown bear Masa finally leaves bar after 18 years

Lithuania. 20-year-old taken to a park in Germany where her ex-owner says she will visit her

After 18 years of hanging out in a Lithuanian bar, Masa the bear has had enough and is retiring.

The 20-year-old brown bear was released from her 15-square-metre cage on Wednesday and handed to animal-rights activists, who plan to take her on 20-hour drive to a bear park in Duren, Germany.

Antanina Vrubliauskiene, who bought Masa as a cub in 1994, watched teary-eyed as the bear was tranquilized and loaded into a van. She plans to visit Masa in her new home 1,700 kilometres away.

Masa spent her bar years locked in a cage next to the door where customers fed her, but some complained that she was kept in cruel conditions, prompting her retirement.

Tennis ref lobs not-guilty plea in murder rap

Death by cup.

Prosecutors allege woman beat, stabbed her husband with a coffee cup

A professional tennis referee beat her elderly husband to death with a coffee cup and used the broken handle to repeatedly stab him before judging a tennis match and getting a manicure, prosecutors said in court Wednesday.

The actions of Lois Ann Goodman showed premeditation and a lack of remorse, Deputy District Attorney Sharon Ransom said while urging a judge to keep her bail at $1 million.

Goodman, who has refereed matches between many tennis greats, was arrested last week in New York just before she was to referee at the U.S. Open.

After considering defence arguments, Superior Court Commissioner Mitchell Block reduced bail to $500,000 for the 70-year-old defendant and allowed home confinement with electronic monitoring after bail is posted.

In making the ruling, Block said he considered her close ties to the community, her age and lack of a criminal record.

About two dozen supporters filled the Van Nuys courtroom as Goodman pleaded not guilty to murdering her 80-year-old husband.

Her husband, Alan Goodman, died in April. Authorities initially believed he likely fell down stairs at home while she was away, but later decided it was murder.

Defence attorney Alison Triessl has claimed her client was physically incapable of committing the crime. Triessl wrote in a previous filing that Goodman has many infirmities, including knee and shoulder replacements.

The Goodmans had been married nearly 50 years and have three grown daughters.

Economist doubts Carney's 'dead money' claim

BoC. Carney made too much of $526B held in reserve by corporations says TD Bank's Craig Alexander

When Bank of Canada governor Mark Carney called $526 billion in corporate cash "dead money," he was overstating the facts, a chief economist of a major Canadian bank says.

Businesses have been a major contributor to the economic recovery from the recession, TD Bank chief economist Craig Alexander wrote in a note to clients Wednesday.

Companies have created 80 per cent of the 721,700 new jobs since mid-2009, while business investment in machinery and equipment is just 2.3 per cent below its pre-recession peak.

"It is true that firms have increased their holdings of cash, but calling all of it dead money is overstated," TD

Waiting for greater certainty

"At the moment, there's no great reason to go out and build a factory."

Laurence Booth, a professor at the University of Toronto's Rotman School of Management. He says it's unlikely Canadian business will do a lot more until economic uncertainty in the U.S. and Europe clears.

Bank chief economist Craig Alexander wrote in a note to clients Wednesday.

Having said that, Alexander also agreed that Canadian companies need to do more to boost the country's competitiveness.

"The simple truth is that, at the economy-wide level, businesses under invested prior to the recession and they cannot let the prevailing risks paralyze them from investing in the coming quarters.

They have to build for the future."

Other reports have said paying the excess out to investors in the form of higher dividends may not do much to boost the economy.

Most shareholders are re-investing their dividends to boost their retirement nest eggs rather than using the money to buy things, Stéfane Marion, chief economist of the National Bank of Canada, wrote in a recent comment for clients.

Marion was referring to a recent comment by Carney that cash-rich companies who are unwilling to boost their investment in machinery and equipment should instead pay out higher dividends and let investors spend the money.

Carney made his remarks after speaking to a Canadian Auto Workers convention last week where union president Ken Lewenza accused companies of sitting on $526 million in cash instead of investing in workers and jobs. TORSTAR NEWS SERVICE

Sentencing. Tech-file thief nets four years in jail

A Chinese-born American convicted of stealing trade secrets from Motorola was sentenced Wednesday to four years in prison in a case that both the judge and prosecutors hoped would send a message to those who might be tempted to siphon vital information from American companies.

"In today's world, the most valuable thing that anyone has is technology..."

"The most important thing this country can do is protect its trade secrets," U.S. District Judge Ruben Castillo said before sentencing Hanjuan Jin.

Jin, who worked as a software engineer for Motorola Inc. for nine years, was stopped during a random security search at Chicago's O'Hare International Airport on February 28, 2007, before she could board a flight to China.

Prosecutors say she was carrying $31,000 and hundreds of confidential Motorola documents, many stored on a laptop, four external hard drives, thumb drives and other devices which she was intending to take to China.

Books. Kobo poised to sell ebooks, e-readers in U.S.

Kobo has struck a partnership with the American Booksellers Association to sell its e-reader device and ebooks through independent U.S. bookstores.

Toronto-based Kobo says it expects to launch its partnership with nearly 2,000 ABA-member stores this fall, starting with 400 stores.

The deal will see ABA members offer Kobo e-readers, ebooks and accessories and share in the revenue ABA members will also be able to offer ebooks online to their customers.

Kobo CEO Mike Serbinis says the company is "excited" to bring an "Indie alternative to the e-reading market."

BACK-TO-SCHOOL WITH BOOZE AND BREATHALYZERS

HE SAYS...
John Mazerolle
metronews.ca/voices/
he-says

I find back-to-school easier than most.

Some people might say that's because I'm not going to school and I have no children, but "phooey on them," as the kids say.

I prefer to think my distance from the chaos provides me with perspective, the same way any given person yelling at the TV could do a better job with the Blue Jays than the paid personnel up close who can only focus on one torn ligament at a time.

For instance, a back-to-school detail I've noticed that's eluded some in the mall-strom is how most shopping lists this time of year focus solely on the student.

But what about the parents' needs?

There are already dozens of columns out there about what kids must have, so here's a look at what moms and dads should buy for a seamless return to 10 months of the ABCs (Angst, Bullying and Confusion).

Grade school:

You need:

- A pre-recording of Carson Daly interviewing Dr. Sanjay Gupta, in case they won't go to bed. Tell them this is what all late-night TV is like.
- The Busdrivalyzer, for overprotective parents — allows you to make sure that the driver on the bus blows clean, clean, clean.
- A pre-written "You're going to have the time of your life!" speech for when you get the urge to tell your children that school is 12 years of emotional and physical violence and run, kid, run break the connected mitten strings and run!

Middle school:

You need:

- A sideways ball cap and a compact disc with an explicit lyrics sticker on it, to let your kids know that you're with it. If you work out a little rap like, "It might seem cool/But a bully is a straight-up fool," your child will remember it forever.
- A kitchen switch that allows you to turn the shower to 'icy cold' after 15 minutes or when the steam sets off the fire alarm, whichever comes first.
- A pre-written, vaguely worded "birds and bees" speech for when you get the urge to say, look kid, the idea of explaining sex to you is just as gross and disturbing to me as it is to you, so ask that Emily girl you like or something.

High school:

- If you would like your child to answer with more than "nothing" when you ask about school, then you'll need, at minimum, the rack. If you want more than "It was fine and they didn't give any homework," an iron maiden.
- An ejection seat that allows you to let your child out in front of their school while driving 100 km/h, thus avoiding embarrassment for the student.
- A pre-written, "You can be whatever you set your mind to!" speech for when you get the urge to say, "You can do whatever you set your mind to provided it fits your socio-economic status, gender, race, last name, the public's perception of you, and then you get incredibly lucky!"

All ages:

- Booze. But you knew that.

It's back-to-school time, which means an expert, i.e. a Metro columnist, has the best advice. You might want to take notes. ISTOCK

La Tomatina makes a gushy scene

Running red

Spanish city turns to tomato warfare

Revellers kiss each other during the annual Tomatina tomato fight in the village of Bunol, Spain, Wednesday.

At this time of year, the town hosts one of the largest food fights in the world, with 40,000 people gathering to throw more than 100 tonnes of tomatoes at each other. The tradition has stood since 1945 and is embraced by locals and tourists. METRO

What did this stem from?

"We don't have much space, but there is no other way."

Coun. Rafael Perez, festival spokesman, acknowledges the chaotic nature of La Tomatina. However, the prestige and tourism the town gains from the events should secure its future.

Reaching a milestone like this is only possible when you have a terrific team that knows how to honour your total commitment to customer service.

"Customer service is number one with us and it always has been," said sales manager Greg Harrison. "We rely on our repeat customers for our success. We want to invite everybody to come in during our anniversary event, enjoy the barbecue, have some refreshments, enter the draws and take advantage of the 2012 model clear-out that's going on this weekend."

Draws? Yes. Millwoods Suzuki is giving away two great prizes: a trip for two to Las Vegas and a cruise for two. Just drop by the dealership to enter to win.

Best of all will be the special prizes up for grabs. "We're offering the best possible pricing on our

The dealership is a bright, modern facility, complete with customer lounge, free Wi-Fi, big-screen TV and a laté lounge. The free shuttle service will get you off to work or home while your car is being

Millwoods Suzuki is also pleased to be able to offer service to new Canadians who require language assistance. They have staff members who are either fluent or at least familiar with many global languages including Chinese, Filipino, French, German, Punjabi, Russian, Spanish, Urdu, Hindi and others.

"We want to extend our thanks to our previous and current customers and to our staff who have helped us reach this 12th anniversary," said Jessy Prihar. "We know we couldn't have done it without you, and we promise to continue to work hard every day to continue to earn your business and loyalty."

Castrol Raceway starts Edmonton's engine, and Brett Wagner can't wait

There is nothing like being at the track and hearing the sound of race car engines revving past you.

It's that rush of adrenaline that got Brett Wagner, host of Speed Channel's Pass Time, interested in the sport at a young age.

"I really got into racing because of my father. We'd go see the nationals down in California almost every year, but that didn't make me an expert.

"I actually learned a lot though through hosting the shows."

Wagner first started out voicing Monster Garage before moving onto a hosting gig with the show Monster Nation.

His fan following, combined with a love of cars, made Wagner a natural host for car events and promotions throughout North America.

In fact, that's how Wagner found himself brokering a deal with Castrol Raceway owners Rob and

Home, sad home for Robert Pattinson

Robert Pattinson is reportedly selling the Los Angeles mansion he shared with Kristen Stewart, according to Us Weekly. The Twilight star is looking to unload the property because "he said there are too many memories," a source says. But while he may be dropping the property, Pattinson isn't necessarily through with Stewart. "Rob doesn't hate her and he's not mad," the source says. "He just

Lohan gets the boot from Chateau Marmont

THE WORD
Monica Weymouth

Lindsay Lohan almost had a good day yesterday. After it looked like she was all but headed back to jail for swiping $100,000 worth of jewelry at a house party, the L.A. County District Attorney decided not to prosecute her. Unfortunately, the Chateau Marmont — the swanky hotel she's called home since May — decided to kick her out.

In an eviction notice obtained by TMZ, general manager Philip Pavel takes issue with the $46,350 bill the actress has managed to rack up. "As we have made repeated attempts to resolve this pressing matter over the last few weeks without any resolution, I regret to inform you that we will no longer be able to extend any further credit for you to remain in the hotel," he writes.

Pavel goes on to add a little comedic flair: "I have adjusted off the daily $75 charge for computer rental for use of the hotel's laptop as a gesture of good faith, with the understanding that you will return the computer."

Also included with the letter is an itemized invoice of the charges, including $686 for cigarettes (to be fair, they were charging her $14 a pack) and $100 for a "Chateau Candle" — which we certainly hope is code for something much more exciting than a candle.

Surprise, surprise Suri's a trust-fund kid

While Katie Holmes will reportedly be getting $4.8 million in child support payments until Suri Cruise turns 18, the little girl herself stands to fare much better from her parents' divorce.

According to Radar Online, as Holmes reportedly insisted that Tom Cruise set up a trust fund for Suri as part of the settlement. "Katie wanted the trust fund put in place for Suri so that their daughter will be able to tap into after she turns 18," a source says. "Katie has absolutely no access to the money and didn't want to. ... But Suri won't be able to legally claim it until she is in her 30s."

If you go down to the shops today, you're in for a big surprise. No, not a teddy bears' picnic but a menagerie of critter-inspired clothing. But whatever the reason, it's time to snare some of this season's game.

Junk food, without the junk

ROMINA
MCGUINNESS
Metro World News

"When it comes to food, it's either eating something that's healthy but without taste, or delicious and bad for us," nutritional therapist Jessica Bourke, author of the cookbook Guilt Free Gourmet, tells Metro, calling that a myth. "We need food to stay alive, but we also need to enjoy it."

She suggests avoiding dairy, sugar and wheat, and has devised recipes to eat well without them.

Dairy

Why you should cut it out
1 It's high in fat, which can cause weight gain.

2 That it's the best source of calcium is a myth. A green smoothie contains just as much calcium as a glass of milk.

3 Cow's milk contains the protein casein, needed to build the big bones of baby calves, not humans. Our body doesn't know what to do with the excess. It also prohibits the absorption of key nutrients including iron and vitamin B12.

Top alternative: Soy. Great for our gut. For women, it's good for their hormones. Go for miso soup, tempeh or tofu.

Sugar

Why you should cut it out
1 It encourages bad bacteria to grow in the gut, which can cause IBS (irritable bowel syndrome). In time, this can exteriorize itself on our skin and lead to conditions such as acne and eczema.

2 It causes chronic fatigue. Processed sugar has a damping down effect on the immune system. Two hours after ingestion, immune cell capacity is reduced by 50 per cent.

3 Processed sugar triggers a blood sugar imbalance that will eventually make you prone to weight gain and hormone problems.

Top alternative: Xylitol. It may sound chemical, but this natural sweetener is derived from the bark of a tree.

Wheat

Why you should cut it out
1 White bread contains calcium carbonate. In other words, chalk.

2 Gluten, a protein found in wheat, can attack and damage the gut cells. This can lead to a condition known as leaky gut syndrome whereby the intestinal lining becomes inflamed.

3 If our immune cells confuse gluten with a pathogen (an agent of disease) the body will attack itself.

Top alternative: Quinoa. Technically a seed, quinoa actually looks and tastes like a grain. Naturally gluten free, it doesn't cause bloating and contains essential amino acids. A bowl will curb your appetite for a while.

Recipe. Gluten, sugar and dairy free Polenta Pizza

1 Bring 1 litre of water to the boil and add the bouillon powder. Reduce the heat and slowly pour in the polenta whisking all the time until blended. Reduce the heat to its lowest setting add half the lemon zest and juice, 4 of the crushed garlic cloves, the thyme and a good pinch of salt and pepper and gently cook, stirring occasionally for about 45 minutes or until the polenta pulls away from the side of the pan and is very thick.

2 Meanwhile, bring another pan of water to the boil. Add 1 teaspoon of salt and boil the chard for about 3-4 minutes until the thick part is just tender. Remove, drain and season with some salt and oil (don't forget to stir the polenta). Heat two tablespoons of oil in another pan over high heat. Fry the mushrooms for about two minutes. Add 1 of the crushed garlic cloves and stir for 30 seconds to release the garlic flavour. Transfer to a bowl, toss with the parsley and season with salt, the remaining lemon zest and juice and some olive oil. When the polenta is ready, transfer to baking sheet and spread out to a thickness of about 2 cm. Cool for 30 min.

3 Preheat the grill. Scatter mushrooms and

Ingredients

Serves 6
Cooking time: 1 hr 30 min (approx)

- 2 teaspoons of bouillon stock powder
- 200 g polenta
- Grated zest and juice of 1 lemon
- 6 garlic cloves, crushed sea salt and ground black pepper
- 1 tablespoon fresh thyme leaves
- 1 head of Swiss chard
- Extra virgin olive oil
- 200 g girolle mushrooms
- 1 tablespoon freshly chopped parsley
- 1 egg
- Bunch of fresh marjoram

chard on polenta. Crack an egg in the middle and grill until egg is cooked. Pull leaves off the marjoram stalks and chop finely. Mix with the last crushed garlic clove and mix with oil to form a loose marjoram oil. Remove the polenta from the grill, and drizzle with the oil.

Sugar-free pancakes with fried bananas

Ingredients

Makes 5
Cooking time: 1 hr (approx)

- Sunflower oil to fry
- 50 g rice flour
- 30 g tapioca flour
- 3 tablespoons gram flour
- ½ a tablespoon baking powder
- Pinch of sea salt
- 2 eggs
- 100 ml rice milk

Fried Bananas

- 2 bananas
- Juice of 1 orange
- 2 teaspoons agave syrup
- 1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
- 1 teaspoon desiccated coconut (and extra to serve)

1 Sift the flour, baking powder and salt in a large mixing bowl and make a well in the middle.

2 In a separate bowl, whisk together the eggs and the milk. Gradually pour into the well in the flour mixture, mixing all the time until you get a smooth batter.

3 Allow the batter to rest for 30 minutes. When ready, heat a little oil in a nonstick frying pan until hot. Stir the batter and pour a small ladle-full into the pan, swirling so that the mixture spreads to the edges. Cook until the top of the pancake starts to bubble — less than 1 minute. Then flip it over and cook until golden. Repeat until you finish the batter.

4 To make the fried bananas, heat a little oil in a frying pan over high heat.

5 Slice the bananas and add to the hot pan. Fry until golden then flip over and fry for another minute or so. Add the orange juice and agave syrup and dust the cinnamon and desiccated coconut over the top. Let the liquid bubble away for 30 seconds then remove from the heat and transfer to a bowl. Add some of the bananas to each pancake and fold it over into a parcel. Now enjoy!

The very best fall/winter trends at New York International Gift Fair

Design centre. These home and gift products will soon be on the store shelves for your purchasing pleasure

DESIGN CENTRE
Karl Lohnes
home@metronews.ca

Twice each year the Javits Center in New York City is packed with the latest and greatest in lamps, rugs, salad bowls and more as the New York International Gift Fair displays housewares to thousands of retail store buyers.

I took a peek around this trade-only event and checked out the latest buys being offered up to retailers for the fall/winter season.

Here's three of the biggest trends.

Seventies Marrakech

The geometrics of the 1970's took a sophisticated turn this season by incorporating richer trend colours that resembled patterns often found in Moroccan textiles, rugs and ceramics. Zig-zag, fish scales and tile work were three hot looks, and famed designer Jonathan Adler nailed all three looks with his Carnaby collection of lamps, trays and mugs. Carnaby Large Flame, Scale and Taletha lamps, $340 each. micasatoronto.com.

Feeling blue

One of the old-time decorator classics has been given resurgence in the contemporary world and many hip exhibitors were showing products that resembled blue-and-white porcelain. This colour combination looks great with neutrals and can hold its own against strong bursts of colour. Seletti's Sextuple playfully extends the porcelain plate into useful wall art or a tray. $1,200. mintinteriors.ca.

Linen with sparkle

Natural linen was everywhere at the show; on furniture upholstery, pillows, bedding and tabletop linens. Threads of metallic, shiny trims and adornments helped to decorate this rather plain, humble fabric. The most outstanding use of linen were companies like Ann Gish (maker of high-end luxurious bedding) who incorporated a hand-painted look of shimmer or sparkle into the linen. 'Gorgeous' bedding by Ann Gish, from $400 to 1,800. anngish.com.

An investment that's right as rain

Where can I get a rain barrel?
-Brent of Victoria

QUEEN OF GREEN
Lindsay Coulter
green@metronews.ca

Rain barrels can be purchased from your local hardware or garden store. In fact, the Capital Regional District's website has a complete list of rain barrel retailers in the Victoria, B.C., area under the Water Services section. You can also search the classifieds, in print or online!

It's a worthy investment. They can cost over $250, depending on the size and manufacturer.

Price also depends on the added bells and whistles, such as filtering systems, spigots and mosquito-proofing measures.

But before you buy, check to see if your city offers a subsidy or distributes rain barrels to residents.

Did you know that more than 40 per cent of residential treated drinking water is used to water lawns and gardens?

Collect rain water on your property to reduce the waste of potable water, especially during the drier summer months.

Benefits of rain barrels

- Rainwater harvesting can reduce storm drainage load, including reducing the chance of basement flooding.
- Direct water away from your home's foundation.

- Provide naturally softened and chlorine-free water — excellent for delicate houseplants, cleaning the car and window-washing.
- Reduce your water bill.

Additional tips

- Select a rain barrel size that will hold most of the rain that comes off your roof. You may need to buy one for each downspout to be sure.
- Install the rain barrel on a level surface (it can weigh up to 545 kilograms when full), even elevating it with paving stones to take advantage of a gravity feed.

- Make your barrel mosquito-proof by adding a lid to it.
- Maintain your system by clearing roofs and rain gutters of debris, cleaning any screens in the tank, and occasionally removing the sediment by draining and cleaning the tank.
- Don't drink the water!

Harvesting rain water has a long list of benefits. ISTOCK IMAGES

A GOOD PLACE TO BE

ISTOCKPHOTO/THINKSTOCK

EDMONTON REAL ESTATE MARKET IS HEALTHY: SPOKESPERSON

Whether you are buying or selling, the Edmonton real estate market is a good place to be.

"The Edmonton market is stable. Sales are up and prices are up," says Jon Hall, spokesperson for the Edmonton Real Estate Board. "Edmonton is in a very good position right now."

Hall says there has been a lot of movement in the condo market in July, with the average price for a condo going for approximately $237,700.

"Condo properties below the average price are selling very quickly," says Hall.

In July, the price of homes in the market averaged in price from about $350,000 to $650,000. Single-family homes were averaging at $384,000.

Homes above the $650,000 mark are still moving, but sellers need to be a bit more patient, according to Hall.

"People are prepared to spend the dollars," says Hall.

Hall says the downtown area is seeing a large number of condos going up for sale with prices dropping almost five per cent.

He also says sales and prices are up almost 5.6 per cent in the Oliver area, another hot spot in the market, as both of these areas could see a big boom in construction over the next five years with arena plans in the works.

For first-time buyers in the current market, Hall recommends taking a good look at condos in the city.

"That is really where you should be looking as a first time buyer," says Hall.

With the current prices, buying a condo should save you about $50,000, but Hall adds that condo living is a lifestyle choice and buyers should not forget about condo fees.

Because there is a bit of a shortage in low priced condos, Hall also recommends not putting off the decision on a condo too long.

"If you like it, you better snap it up right away," says Hall.

ASTRID
VAN DEN BROEK
For Metro

It's so easy to get caught up in back to school shopping, isn't it?

As Toronto-based Walmart Canada's Back to School Pulse Check report discovered, nearly 52 per cent of respondents noted they make multiple trips to multiple stores to shop for supplies and spend an average $190 per child.

So, what do you need to know for back to school shopping this fall? Metro asked some larger retailers to fill us in on top trends for kids and parents to stock up for school.

Licensing Is Hot

Think Angry Birds, boy band One Direction, Hello Kitty and superheroes of many colours feature prominently on a variety of school items. "Licenses are popular across the board from pencil cases to lunch bags to backpacks," says Carmelo Ragusa, senior category manager, stationary for Walmart Canada.

Personalized Is Popular

Whether it's buying pre-personalized items with their names on them or putting their stamp on their binders, kids want to leave their mark on their school supplies. "One trend we're seeing emerge is customization and personalization — so being able to doodle on your binder," says Ragusa. "There are binders out there right now that are doing really well where kids can do their own artwork on their binders with their own names and pictures."

Don't Forget Tech Accessories

For older students, tech accessories are fun as well — think USB keys with characters such as the Simpsons or Family Guy, or ear buds to listen to music while doing homework over lunch. Grebenc notes that ear buds are also having fun with design — Crayola's ear buds, for instance, look like a broken crayon is going through the wearer's head.

Ontario-based Staples Canada, notes one of its popular sellers includes The Kit from Dudley, which features a dry erase marker and board, calendar, mirror, cork board with thumb tacks and a Dudley combination lock. This year retailers are packaging kits and deals that include a matching backpack, lunch bag, pencil case and sometimes even water bottle.

Watch For The Jungle Jungle and animal prints continue to be popular on brightly coloured cases and binders — think zebra and other animal prints.

No need to toss that bag

Today's lunch bags focus on being reusable. Here's what's hot in lunch bags.

Matchy-matchy: Many retailers are pairing lunch bags with backpacks, both featuring the same design.

Bright and colourful: Hot colours in lunch bags include hot pinks, oranges, yellows and blues for girls and bright reds and blues for boys.

Going old school: Not all lunch bags are of the zip-top, insulated interior kind. Metal flip-top lunch boxes featuring superheroes such as Superman and Batman are also popular.

Grown-up lunch boxes:

"For the more mature students we have Elle lunch bags that come in a wide variety of colours and sizes and they look almost like a small carrying bag," says Steve Grebenc, a general manager for a west-end Toronto-based Staples Canada. "Some of them come with utensils as well. And for patterns, stripes are popular and prints such as circles and squares on them."

Lunch bag, $9.97, available at Walmart, walmart.ca.

What to pack for lunches this school year?

If your child keeps coming home with containers full of sandwiches, maybe it's time to switch things up.

Lianne Phillipson-Webb, a registered nutritionist and founder of Toronto-based SproutRight, shares her fresh lunch ideas.

Think Outside The Sandwich

"Even if it's a wrap or filling a pita, you want to have balance in what you pack between carbs and protein so your child has energy during the day," says Phillipson-Webb. "So you could fill with tuna, egg or meat. To keep it from going soggy, if you thinly spread butter or mayonnaise it acts as a barrier."

Play With Your Fillings

Combine two sure-fire kid-friendly foods such as grated cheese and grapes. Or Tahini (sesame seed butter — check with your school first to see if it's allowed) and a banana inside the wrap.

Try A Different Wrap

Steal a page from fresh spring

Fresh lunch ideas means your child will probably eat what you give them. HEMERA/THINKSTOCK rolls and try rice paper wraps. "You just have to make the paper wet and fill it with vegetables, tofu, avocado, mango, pineapple, noodles — whatever you like," she says.

Or Try A Brand New Filling

Such as pressed cottage cheese. "It has more protein than a cream cheese and if you want to sweeten it up, you could spread a fruit jam on it," she says. Look for it in the dairy cooler in the supermarket.

NHLPA to make counter-offer by end of the week

There is no new deal on the horizon in the NHL's collective bargaining talks.

One day after receiving a proposal from the league that commissioner Gary Bettman labelled "meaningful" and "significant," the NHL Players' Association made it clear Wednesday that it didn't share that view.

The union concluded the proposal wouldn't actually see current contracts paid out in full.

The union plans to deliver a counter-proposal by the end of the week, perhaps as soon as Thursday.

With a Sept. 15 deadline for a lockout creeping closer, the calculation of hockey-related revenue has emerged as a sticking point. THE CANADIAN PRESS

Armstrong refers to self as 7-time Tour champ

Lance Armstrong introduced himself as a seven-time Tour de France champion at a cancer conference in Montreal on Wednesday.

"My name is Lance Armstrong. I am a cancer survivor," he said to open his speech to the World Cancer Congress. "I'm a father of five. And yes, I won the Tour de France seven times."

Armstrong announced last week he would no longer challenge the U.S. Anti-Doping Agency's drug charges against him. USADA threw out his competitive victories dating to 1998, which would include all seven Tour wins.

Recharged Escobar powers Jays to win

MLB. Shortstop has been hitting well since birth of child. By beating Yankees, Toronto gets first series win since July Yunel Escobar got a much-needed break last week when he took three days off for the birth of his child.

It's made all the difference.

Escobar hit a two-run homer, three doubles and drove in five runs as Toronto beat the New York Yankees 8-5 Wednesday, ending CC Sabathia's five years of dominance over the Blue Jays.

The light-hitting shortstop went 15 games without getting more than a single before he went on the paternity list. In the four games back he has six for extra bases.

"At the time of the birth he was a little frustrated with how he was performing but that three-day break allowed him to relax and come back with a more positive mindset," injured slugger Jose Bautista said,

Escobar had a go-ahead RBI double in the third. His homer against Sabathia in the sixth gave the Blue Jays the lead again and his two-run double off Joba Chamberlain in the ninth helped secure Toronto's first series win since July 27-29. The five RBIs matched a career high for Escobar.

J.A. Happ (3-1) overcame a season-high five walks, including an intentional pass of Derek Jeter to load the bases with one out in the fourth inning, for the Blue Jays' second win in 10 games.

"He feels like anything positive that happens to the club is going to be welcome right now," Escobar said. "He feels like winning

Yankees slipping

- The Yankees' inability to win consecutive games for the first time since sweeping Texas three in a row Aug. 13-15 has hurt them in the standings.

London 2012. Canada on hunt for Paralympians

Going on the theory that the wider the base, the higher the top of the pyramid, Canada needs more people with a disability to get involved in sport.

Canada slipped from third in gold medals won at the 2000 and 2004 Summer Paralympics to seventh in 2008. The Canadian team's objective in 2012 is to finish in the top eight.

Recruiting amputees and the visually impaired, as well people with spinal cord injuries, cerebral palsy and muscular dystrophy is a priority of the Canadian Paralympic Committee.

The organization will launch a television commercial during the London Paralympics aimed at Canada's four million people with a disability.

"We need thousands more people with disabilities participating in sport to go up against China, Britain and the United States," says CPC executive director of sport Rob Needham.

Canadian team chef de mission Gaetan Tardif has pointed out that China draws from a pool of 40 million people with a disability, which is more than Canada's total population of 35 million. THE CANADIAN PRESS

Cohon gets Grey Cup ready for wild ride

CFL. Canada's biggest football prize to travel across country on its own train for centennial celebrations

The Grey Cup will be riding the rails this fall.

Canada's biggest football prize is travelling across the country by train to celebrate the Cup's 100th anniversary.

Wrapped with photos of CFL players and historical images of Canadian football, the Grey Cup 100 Train features a museum car filled with memorabilia.

There is also a team car built to resemble a dressing room and one dedicated to the Grey Cup itself.

The tour will stop in more than 100 communities, including all eight CFL cities, as well as Charlottetown, Moncton, Halifax and Quebec City.

The Cup will also be transported to some communities not accessible by rail, includ-

The train departs Vancouver's Pacific Central Station on Sept. 9 and will travel 4,100 kilometres. Its final stop is Nov. 17 at Toronto's Exhibition Station, just a week before the 100th Grey Cup game.

According to Cohon, the tour took two years to organize, including striking deals with Via Rail, CP and CN.

Horoscopes

Aries

March 21 - April 20

If you cannot seem to make up your mind about an issue that should be cut and dried by now just choose a path and follow it to whatever destination it leads. Ultimately all roads lead to where you need to go.

Taurus

April 21 - May 21

If something that has been going smoothly comes to an unexpected stop today there is no need to panic. All that is happening is that you are being given a chance to reconsider your options. Make the most of it.

Gemini

May 22 - June 21

You might be tempted to overlook someone's faults and failings today but only do so if it does not leave you at a disadvantage. It's good to be generous but some people just cannot be trusted. Wise up.

Cancer

June 22 - July 23

Something you were enthusiastic about just a few days ago no longer seems like such a good idea, but don't walk away from it yet because the planets indicate it still has meaning and value. Give it more time.

Leo

July 24 - Aug. 23

You may decide to let someone off the hook, even though they don't deserve it. The simple fact is you don't have time to chase or chastise them. Hopefully they won't be so stupid as to test your patience again.

Virgo

Aug. 24 - Sept. 23

Something you are expected to do may not make a lot of sense but do it anyway and then forget it. If the powers that be say it's got to be done then trust them to know what they are talking about.

Libra

Sept. 24 - Oct. 23

You have been a bit free and easy with your cash of late (no change there then!) and will have to make some cutbacks today. You don't have to starve yourself but five star dining is out, for now.

Scorpio

Oct. 24 - Nov. 22

A project you have been working on for some time is moving ahead at a snail's pace and you may be tempted to junk it. Don't! Today's Sun-Pluto link suggests you are about to enter a more dynamic phase.

Sagittarius

Nov. 23 - Dec. 21

Ignore the critics and cynics and strike out in a new direction. One quality you have never lacked is courage, so be brave and be the kind of Sag who tries something new and exciting each and every day.

Capricorn

Dec. 22 - Jan. 20

Once you understand a problem it ceases to be a problem. Knowledge removes all fears. Well, that's the theory anyway and you will get the chance to put it to the test today. Ask yourself: what can I learn?

Aquarius

Jan. 21 - Feb. 19

Recent upheavals were no doubt shocking but as you are the sort of person who thrives on change you had fun as well. Not everyone was so fortunate though, so you may need to help with some counselling today.

Pisces

Feb. 20 - March 20

Your luck is changing for the better, though that may not yet be obvious. Today's Sun-Pluto link will catapult you into the limelight and demand that you take a leadership role. Don't be scared. SALLY BROMPTON
